Are You Able to Meet the New Requirement?

To improve national security, Public Law 107-228 was signed on September 30, 2002, by President George W. Bush requiring that all persons who are required to file export information under Chapter 9 of Title 13, United States Code, file such through the Automated Export System (AES). If you are still filling out the paper Shipper's Export Declaration (SED), you only have until the first quarter of 2006 before you are mandated to use AES to file your export information. If shippers do not use the AES, they will be fined and their shipments seized by U.S. Bureau of Customs and Border Protection officials. (Per Census Bureau RIN 0607-AA38)

Are You Prepared?

The U.S. Export Regulations Seminar will be an enjoyable way for you to get prepared for this impending requirement. Experts from the U.S. Census Bureau and the U.S. Bureau of Customs and Border Protection will present to you the new regulations and how to submit your SED through the AES. They will thoroughly cover:

- The filing of required export information
- The Automated Export System (AES)
- Schedule B classifications
- Port requirements
- Efforts against terrorism and international narcotics trafficking

Save time, money, and anxiety. The seminar admission fee covers the cost of a continental breakfast, lunch, and all seminar handouts. But, if you would like hands-on training, plan to attend one of the AESPCLink Certification Workshops on the second day.

Reduce Exporting Stress with AES!

You can enjoy the benefits of FREE electronic filing of your SEDs via the windows-based desktop PC component, AESPCLink.

Mastering the Automated Export System

Both AESPCLink Certification Workshops include an overview of the Automated Export System, hands-on PC training, and filing sample SEDs via AESPCLink. (You may bring samples of SEDs filed by your company for practice.) Participants will be presented with certificates upon completion.

We prefer that participants be familiar with using a PC and an Internet browser prior to attending the workshops. These workshops are not free.
